RICHMOND, Aug. 1.—The flag of truce boat at City Point to-day brought seven hundred wounded Confederates.—Gen. Spaulding has been appointed Commissioner of Exchange in place of Col. Ludlow transferred.

New York papers of the 30th have been received. The Secretary of War has decided that Morgan and his officers shall be confined in the Ohio Pententiary, until the rebel authorities release the officers of negro troops captured some time ago in Georgia.

There is another invasion excitement in Kentucky, caused by the advance force of Cavalry under Pegram, fifteen hundred strong, towards Lexington. Four hundred Federals were attacked at Richmond, overpowered and badly cut up. The people of South Kentucky river were panic stricken and fled North. Martial Law has been declared at Lexington. All citizens have been called to arms.

A telegram from Washington, dated 29th, says the New York Times says that Gilmore has been promised all the reinforcements he needs. Charleston must fall, if energy and fifteen inch guns will accomplish the result.

The army of the Potomac now occupies practically the same line it did two months ago. The recent active movements will necessarily be followed by a period of comparitive inaction.

The Imperial arrived at St. Louis from New Orleans on the 28th. A national salute was fired in honor of the opening of the Mississippi. Two Steamers have left for New Orleans with heavy freight. The steamer Merrimac, from Wilmington, with five hundred and seventy-six bales of cotton, etc., was captured by the Iroquois on the 25th and has arrived at New York.

Publication of Intercepted Letters from the President and General Cooper, &c.

RICHMOND, Aug. 2.—Letters of the 28th June, from General Cooper and the President to General Lee, and intercepted by the enemy's scouts about the time the battle of Gettysburg was fought, are published in the Northern papers. Cooper informs General Lee that the President is embarrassed to understand that part of his letter which refers to the place of assembling his army, in Culpeper, under Beauregard. This is the first intimation had that such a plan was contemplated. The rest of Cooper's letter relates to the late demonstration of the enemy against Richmond.

The President, refering to operations in Mississippi, says Johnston continues to call for reinforcements though his first requsition was more than filled by withdrawing troops from Beauregard and Bragg. He informs Lee he has no brigades to send him or to form an army to threaten if not capture Washington, as soon as it is uncovered by Hooker's army.

Reported this morning that the Yankees are in force near Fredericksburg. Yesterday weather was clear and very hot.

Cavalry Fight in Virginia—Later from the North—Rumors, Speculations, &c.

RICHMOND, Aug. 2.—There was a Cavalry fight yesterday near Brandy Station between Hampton's Brigade and three Brigades of the enemy, lasting several hours. The Confederates fell back upon infantry supports, and the enemy were then repulsed. Our loss less than one hundred killed and wounded. Col. Baker, commanding brigade was severely wounded in the right arm. Col. Black, 1st S. C. wounded in right hand. Both arrived here this afternoon. Col. Young also wounded.

Weather intensely hot to-day.

Baltimore American 1st has the following telegram:

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Information received to-day from the army of the Potomac says Lee had massed his forces in Culpeper on Wednesday and made other preparations to give us battle on the Rappahannock and Rapidan. He is fortified South of Culpeper.

General Strong died at New York from wounds received in the attack on Fort Wagner. Lincoln is about to visit the New England States.

A Matamoras letter, of the 16th of June, to the New Orleans Era, mentions a rumor that seven thousand French troops are on their way there from Vera Cruz.—Vicksburg advices, 24th, say that General Herron's division has gone to participate in the attack on Mobile.

NORTH CAROLINA CHRISTAIN ADVOCATE.

NEW SERIES.

IT IS CONTEMPLATED TO RESUME THE PUBlication of the North-Carolina Christian Advocate at an early day, under the patronage of the North-Carolina Conference, and under the direction and ownership of a joint stock Company, composed of ministers and laymen, to secure its permanency.

It will be as its name imports, a CHRISTIAN Advocate.—It will sustain and defend the doctrines and discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and labor to advance Christ's Kingdom on earth, and to promote peace and good will among all men.

Besides its earnest, religious character, it shall be an advocate of the moral, educational and industrial progress of North Carolina—a welcome visitor to every family and to the camps of our brave soldiers, and a faithful chronicler of what may be useful and interesting, and of the current news.

All our traveling and local ministers and the stockholders of the Company, are specially requested to act as Agents for the paper.

VOL. IV. RALEIGH, MONDAY, AUG. 3, 1863. NO. 217.

MOVEMENTS OF THE YANKEES NEAR WELDON—GEN. RANSOM, &c.

The following is from the Petersburg Express of Saturday:

From an officer who has been actively engaged in all the movements of our troops in the vicinity of Weldon, during the present week, we obtain some particulars which may be accepted as perfectly reliable. Gen. M. W. Ransom reached Weldon Tuesday morning last about 8 a. m., accompanied by only a small portion of his brigade. Having no cavalry there, he accompanied by his staff, hurried to the front to ascertain the force and position of the enemy.

At two o'clock p. m., Tuesday, Spears' Brigade of Cavalry, accompanied by nine pieces of artillery, suddenly made their appearence near Jackson, Northampton county, capturing the whole of Col. Wheeler's mounted pickets, who had been at or near Murfreesboro'.

We are positively assured that General Ransom was not surprised, nor were any of his staff surprised or captured. Capt. Calvert, who was reported captured, was at home on furlough. He is not attached to Gen. Ransom's staff. These reports were industriously circulated in Petersburg on Wednesday, and thus found their way into the columns of the Express. We are gratified that it is in our power to contradict them. Gen R., our informant states, was in front all the time, exercising all the vigilance which it was possible for him to do, and but for his extreme caution, we are assured that his pickets might have shared the same fate as Col. Wheeler's.

At three p. m., the enemy attacked Gen. R.'s command in position at Boone's Mill, eight miles from Garysburg. The fight continued until after dark, and the enemy had Spears' entire brigade and nine pieces of artillery engaged. At seven p. m., he commenced his retreat, and our forces pursuing, the enemy finally fled precipitately, destroying the bridges behind him, and never halting until he had crossed Meherrin river at Murfreesboro. Having but little, if any cavalry, it was impossible for our forces to continue the pursuit only a short distance. But for night closing in at an early an hour, a flank movement would have been made, that would probably have resulted in the capture of the entire party.

Our numbers were greatly below those of the opposing forces, but notwithstanding this disparity, we inflicted severe punishment on the invaders, and they have remained entirely quiescent since.

Gen. Ransom is now better prepared for an attack, and should the enemy again advance, they will meet with a much warmer reception.

To the Voters of the Fifth Congressional District.—The emergency calls for the purest and ablest men to serve the country in her Legislative Councils. The well known character of Captain JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin, for patriotism, integrity and wisdom, plainly indicates him as the fittest man in the District to represent us in the next Congress. Captain Davis is now leading his gallant company against the invaders of his country, and does not even dream of his friends entertaining the idea of voting for him for Congress or any other civic position, at this time; but we are confident that he will skrink from no responsibility to which his fellow citizens may call him. Well known and universally respected as he is, Franklin County offers her noble son to the voters of the District in full confidence of his election, on account of his own unpretending merit, and for the good of the country. Patriots, your suffrages are asked for a wise and prudent statesman, and gallant soldier.

3,700 BOXES OF THE SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS

HAVE BEEN ORDERED IN ONE DAY. WHEREever known their use continues. Without puffing, they have gained ground by their real value. More than five hundered persons are known to have been cured by these Pills.

This excellent family medicine is recommended by the proprietor as good only for diseases of the Liver. His correspondents say that they also cure Billious Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Chills and Fevers, Billious Fevers, Piles and Worms. They are a perfectly safe medicine.

Peter Vaden, Esq., of Dinwiddie county, Va., after describing remarkable cures in his family of Billious Rheumatism and Pleurisy, says: "My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $175 to $200 per year. I have used them [these pills] for my family, which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a Doctor. This is a great saving. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered."

Rev. John W. Potter, of Greene county, North Carolina, had suffered twelve years from a diseased liver, which the physicians had not been able to cure. He says:

"I commenced taking the Hepatic Pills with no confidence in them. They acted like a charm on me. From that hour I have improved. I have persevered in their use until now, by God's blessing, I am well and hearty. I had a negro man who, as I believe, was saved from death by a dose of these Pills. My Doctor's bill was annually from $100 to $200, but I have had no use for a physician since."

The great rise in the price of ingredients and the heavy tax on these Pills, compel the proprietor to put them at their present prices or quit the manufacture. They are not more profitable to him than when he sold them at lower rates.

Price: $1:50 a box. For $15 a dozen boxes will be sent prepaid to any part of the Confederacy. Those who desire less than a dozen boxes must apply to the Druggists. Great reduction made to Druggists and merchants who pay by the gross. Cash must always accompany orders.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 14.

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROCLAMATION OF the President, issued the 15th inst., Colonels of Militia will, on the 20th day of August, enroll all persons in the bounds of their Regiments, between the ages of 18 and 45, who have not already received certificates of exemption or detail.

Enrolling Officers of North Carolina are directed to make their appointments immediately to visit the Regiments within their Districts, commencing on the 20th day of August.

Notice is hereby given to all interested, that persons liable to conscription have the right to volunteer in any company in regular service of the Confederate States before enrollment. After enrollment they must come to camp, where they will be assigned to commands of their choice as far as practicable. All persons, therefore, desiring to volunteer, must do so before the 20th of August, (the day of enrollment.) Transportation will be furnished at this office.

After enrollment substitutes cannot be accepted under any circumstances except at this office. The principal is required to appear in person with the substitute. Substitutes under 18 or over 50 will not be accepted. Certificate of good moral character is required before the substitute will be taken.

This call is made by the President from absolute necessity to meet the increased force of the enemy; to strengthen and support our gallant and veteran army; to protect and defend our homes and firesides, and drive the invader from our soil. Our veteran troops require the assistance of every man who can shoulder a musket or draw a sword. The Commandant, therefore, earnestly hopes that this call will be responded to promptly, cheerfully and with our unwavering determination to swell the list of our glorious and gallant dead, if necessary, for our freedom and independence.

The Commandant takes pleasure again in acknowledging the efficient aid rendered him by the State Officers, and exhorts them to renewed zeal in supplying the necessities of the army.

By order of Col. PETER MALLETT,
Com'dt of Conscripts for N. C.
J. W. MALLETT, Adjutant. July 24-2w

The Pennsylvania Tithingman Removed.

We have good authority for saying that President Davis has removed the man, Bradford, a Pennsylvanian, who had been appointed chief collector of tithes for this State, and that a North Carolinian will be appointed in his place. President Davis begins to see that the great upheaving of the people in this State, as the result of repeated insults and injury, means something, and we honor him for the course he has taken. We never have blamed him for the injustice that has been heaped upon North Carolina, for we believe that he desires to deal justly and fairly by all the States and the people of all the States, but he has unfortunately listened to unprincipled politicians and a hirling press, and they have misled him. If, hereafter, our rulers at Richmond will consult with and be advised by Gov. Vance, and men of influence and character, in reference to affairs in this State, instead of the hireling presses of this city and those who own them, the best feelings may prevail between them and us, and they will find no more zealous supporters than they will have in the honest masses of our people.

One of the hireling presses of this city, and which has assisted in misleading the administration in reference to matters in this State, is conducted by an unprincipled foreigner, who is and has been a pauper ever since he came to this country from the sewers of Europe; he has no property and never will have, he and the press he uses belonging to men nearly as bad as himself; his ears belong to the pillory, he having forfeited them by exercising the rights of a citizen, under oath, at the ballot box, in this county, years before he was naturalized. It is this putrid excressence and those who own, aid and abet him, here, that have misled President Davis, and who have been the cause of all the slights that North Carolina has received. We are glad to know that the eyes of the President are being opened to the true state of affairs in North Carolina, and that, hereafter, he is likely to confer with Gov. Vance (than whom no purer patriot or devoted Southern man lives) and his friends, and turn his back upon those who have misled, and who would damn him and the Confederacy to punish those who differ with them politically.

We do not notice anything the British hireling who manages the organ of the spavined politicians in this State, may say of us, for it is universally known he is considered beneath the contempt of all decent men here, (and having been born and raised in North Carolina we require no defence from the calumnies of vagabond foreigners,) but for the sake of harmony between this State and the Confederate Government, and that President Davis may have the cordial support and hearty co-operation of the masses of our people, we feel it to be our duty to let the administration know who this black-mailing calumniator and former attache of the New York Tribune is. We will not polute our columns with his name or the name of the infamous sheet over which, men who claim to be respectable, hire him to preside.

We rejoice at the step which President Davis has taken and predict that the happiest results will flow from it.

Weak in the Knees.

While thousands of Mississippians and Louisianians are bravely battling for the independence of their country on distant fields, there are to be found persons, we fear not a few, in those States, who seek protection and forgiveness at the hands of the Yankees. They were valiant and brave while they snuffed the battle from afar, but when their own strongholds fall and their own States are being overrun, they set up the coward's cry for mercy. Well, the mercurial people of that latitude were the most anxious to draw the sword, and if we are to be disgraced and humiliated in the eyes of the world it is but meet that they should be our betrayers.

The telegraph has informed us that the Mississippians in Johnston's army were deserting in large numbers, and the fact that the forces paroled at Vicksburg is scattered over the country in a state of demoralization, is generally conceded. And we are told, too, and we fear there is much truth in it, that many of the wealthy planters of Louisiana have taken the oath, accepted Federal protection, and are hiring their own negroes; and that many of the same class in Mississippi, braver than the bravest until the war came home to them, are now clamorous for protection, have taken position at the mourner's seat and pray to be admitted back to the fold of Abraham.—Shame on such cowardice! Suffering and affliction, loss of property and tyranny of the enemy are ordeals through which many of our people have passed with patriotism as pure and aspirations for the complete independence of the South as high as before they had felt the iron heel of the infamous invader, and the masses of the people will not accept any settlement of the war that will dishonor them as long as they have the power of resistance; but it seems that many of the cotton lords and sugar makers of Mississippi and Louisiana are ready to disgrace themselves and the whole people by a submission that does not even ask the forms of negotiation.

We find the following item in the late Northern papers and doubt not but there is much truth in it:

"Major General Logan and Colonel Rawlings, of General Grant's staff, who have arrived at Cairo, state that General Sherman had returned to Jackson, and reported to General Grant that the leading citizens of that portion of Mississippi implored some action by which the State could be returned to the Union. The army and people were completely dispirited and ready for peace."

If the war is to have a disgraceful termination, which may God forbid, North Carolina will not be responsible for it. We did not begin the war nor will we end it if it has to close in base submission and disgrace. Large portions of our State have been overrun, and no considerable portion of our people have asked protection at the hands of the invaders, but on the contrary we know that the majority of those of our people left in the enemy's lines are as loyal to our government and as solicitous for success and independence as any in the Confederacy. Most of the people of this State thought the war unnecessary and wicked and that it could and should have been prevented, and the State was slow to move, but when she did move she moved in earnest and has done her whole duty since the struggle commenced.

Nothing is more plain than that those who were rampant in bringing on the war were the first to skulk by procuring some office that would keep them out or by buying substitutes, and that those sections where red cockades were most conspicuous and abundant are the first to submit and ask Yankee protection. There is a good deal of weakness in the knees, but we wish it to be understood that those who were strong in bluster and loud in boasts of what they would do, before blood was shed, are the first to sneak and skulk now. We would gladly see an honorable peace by negotiation, and we favor an effort to procure such a peace, but we despise the coward who proposes submission, or the poltroon who asks protection at the hands of our persecutors.

Send Forward Men.

All our information concurs in representing that a battle is imminent in Virginia, and that it will be desperate and bloody when fought. We have no fears of Gen. Lee being defeated in Virginia, but we want the army strengthened by the addition of every possible man that the lives of the noble fellows who have braved so many dangers and fought on so many fields may be saved. Lee will whip Meade as sure as the battle is fought, but we want a decisive victory and we want it with the least possible damage to our army. Let the brave army of Northern Virginia be reinforced and we may soon expect a victory over our insolent enemy that will restore drooping confidence and cause every heart to rejoice. The boastful North may talk about amnesty, forgiveness and all that, but as long as Gen. Lee's veterans are in the field we are not and shall not be subjugated.

The Kinston correspondent of a prostituted, hireling sheet in this city, and who has recently attacked the loyalty of some of the best citizens of Greene county, is a creature that held office under Lincoln from the time of his inauguration to the date of the secession of the State. His calumnies do not affect the gentlemen against whom they are directed.

A gentleman paid us one dollar and a half on Saturday to have the Progress sent to Kittrell's, and we have mislaid the memorandum and forgot the name. Will the gentleman please send us his name.

For the Progress.

The Late Col. D. H. Christie.

In the frightfully numerous list of North Carolinians who fell at Gettysburg, none of the glorious dead have been honored with more heartfelt sorrow among his numerous friends and acquaintances than Col. Daniel Henry Christie. In the commencement of the war, Col. Christie offered his services to North Carolina, the State of his adoption, and was made Major of the 23d regiment N. C. Troops. At the reorganization of the regiment, twelve months afterwards, his good conduct and military skill elevated him to the Colonelcy, in which position, by his mild, affable yet firm demeanor, he gained the affection and esteem of both the gallant officers and men under his command. In the series of fierce conflicts around Richmond, commencing at Seven Pines, Col. Christie and his regiment bore a conspicuous part. Out of 300 men carried into action 170 were killed and wounded, the Col. receiving a severe injury in the breast from the fall of his horse which was killed under him. He recovered from his injuries just in time to lead his regiment in the brilliant charge which decided the fate of the day at Coal Harbor under the intrepied Garland, whose Brigade was composed of the 2d, 5th, 12th, 13th and 23d North Carolina Regiments. Here just at sunset as the shouts of the victorious Confederates filled the air, Col Christie received a severe wound from a grape shot just above the knee, and was borne bleeding from the field.

In the first expedition into Maryland at the battle of Boonsboro, in which North Carolina's glorious old chieftain, Daniel H. Hill, with Garland's North Carolina Brigade and a few other troops, in all less than six thousand, held in check for a whole day McClelland's mighty army, and, also at Sharpesburg, Col. Christie acted with accustomed coolness and bravery. At Chancellorsville, Col. Christie and his regiment, now in Stonewall Jackson's division, covered themselves with glory. At the last fierce encounter at Gettysburg, Garland's old brigade, now Iverson's, were ordered to charge up a steep declivity and dislodge the enemy from behind a stone or wall fence, and while moving rapidly forward at the head of his regiment waving his sword and cheering his men amidst a tempest of shot and shell and a hurricane of bullets, Col. Christie received a mortal wound—shot through the lungs by a minnie ball. By easy stages he arrived at Winchester and lingered until the 23d of July, then expired. While we mourn the loss of the gallant soldier—the christian gentleman, (for such was Colonel Christie,)—there is one crushed and bleeding heart which bows to earth before this afflictive event.—God help the widowed wife and the helpless orphans! May He be a shield and rock of defence to thee and thy little ones in the hour of distress! May He who doeth all things well take thee under His especial care and protection!

Substitution.

It is said that more than one hundred thousand substitutes have been put in the Confederate army. Just think of it, a hundred thousand men at home within the conscript age, who are doing nothing for the independence of the South! Of course they desire independence, but not enough to fight for it.—We make no attack upon these gentlemen, for we know many of them to be as good citizens as we have among us, but they must know that they are only serving their country by proxy and that in many instances the proxies entered with the determination of deserting the first opportunity; and so demoralizing to the army had this element become that Gen. Lee determined, months ago, not to receive any more into the army of Northern Virginia.

We learn that the records show that some two thousand have been mustered into one regiment and seven or eight hundred into one company, and that neither are yet full. This is conclusive that collusion, corruption and fraud has been practiced by officers in receiving substitutes, and we have heard it asserted that there are officers in the army who have made their "pile" in that way.

In the remarks of our last we did not mean to reflect on Colonels Mallett or August, who have had charge of the conscript camp for North Carolina, both of whom are good officers and have tried, we firmly believe, to perform their duty; but we are satisfied of the fact that many unsound, worthless men have been received for favorites or by bribery at the different camps in the field, and the case we mentioned was one of them. The man we referred to was sent off to be put in, and not put in at Camp Holmes. He would no doubt have been rejected there.

That the war may be fully and impartially carried out the commandant of conscripts should institute a full and thorough search into all the establishments that employ exempts and detailed men, all tanneries, factories, printing offices, shoe shops, &c. The great need of the service and the country now is men, and men we must have, or look for more disasters.—Put every man in the service that ought to be there and we cannot only defend ourselves but ensure our independence.

FROM WELDON.—We have seen an officer who left Weldon on Saturday. The enemy had fallen back in the direction of Suffolk, to what point not known.—Gen. Ransom and his troops were at Weldon, and we are assured that there is not a word of truth in the following which appeared in the Richmond Sentinel of Saturday:

"At a late hour last night, Brig. General M. W. Ransom telegraphed from Weldon that he had whipped the enemy badly, at Franklin, on the Blackwater river. They fled in great confusion, and our forces were pursuing, when last heard from."

Gen. Ransom has not been near the Blackwater and no such fight as is mentioned has taken place.

We suppose the enemy finding our forces too strong for them have fallen back and abandoned the contest, or dropped back to await reinforcements before making a more determined advance.

P. S.—There were rumors by the noon train yesterday that the enemy were again advancing on Weldon, but in what force was not known.

Army Correspondence.

CAMP BAKER, 41st N. C. T.,
July 27th, 1863.

DEAR PROGRESS:—The present gloom which has overspread our beloved country, caused by the reverses to our arms on the late battles fields, though they have caused so much dispondency at home, curious to say, have had no such influence on the army. They have nerved our arms to more acts of desperation, and we are more determined than ever, to never stop short of complete independence or the grave. How much do we regret to see so much impatience evinced by our friends at home. It is true we all want peace—there is music in the word—but we want such a peace as two years and a half ago we went forth from our homes to conquer. Any thing short of that would disgrace us. The graves of an hundred and fifty thousand of our brothers in arms, would frown upon us as we turned our backs on the battle field, without accomplishing the ends for which they died. All the glory which we have won upon so many well fought fields would be forgotten. We must suffer a little more yet. We must bleed a little more yet. It is useless to speak of making propositions to the North for peace. They will receive no other peace, than complete subjugation. A nation who refuses to receive a proposition to conduct the war in a more civilized manner, will surely treat with contempt your proposition for peace.

We are engaged in war, that is to result either in subjugation or independence. There is no half way ground. Stop when we may we shall either be subjugated or independent. Therefore, in the name of twenty thousand of her noblest sons, whose bones lie whitening upon many batte fields, we, the remaining of the army of our glorious old mother State, call upon her, yet to be patient awhile. We are willing and anxious to strike another, and yet another blow. It is true we see no real humiliation, in making propositions to the North for peace, nor do we coincide with those fanatical demagoges who class its advocates among the "disaffected," but inasmuch as we do think that it would be attended with no beneficial results, to speak of it only evinces impatience in our people that we are pained to see.

There is no news of importance from this direction. All is quiet now. We were a few days ago ordered to this place—near Petersburg—we suppose to await orders, to recruit up our horses, and to supply the places of those that have died, during our long and laborious campaign. In the absence of Col. Baker for a few days Capt. D. A Robertson is in command of the Regiment. The men are all in good health, and excellent spirit.

Yours, &c.,
W. D. H.

AFFAIRS AT CHARLESTON.

The Mercury of Thursday says:

Battery Wagner has sustained another day's severe bombardment. The enemy's land batteries upon Morris Island, four in number, opened fire at an early hour yesterday morning. About ten o'clock the Ironsides and two of the monitors came within range and joined in the attack, which continued with considerable vigor until after two o'clock. Before three o'clock the Ironsides and the monitors had withdrawn, the former having been struck twice by shot from Fort Sumter. One of these shots threw up a dark cloud from the steamer, which some supposed to have been a column of sand, with which it is not improbable that the ship's magazine was protected.

The enemy's four batteries on Morris Island contain, it is believed, eleven guns. Besides these they are throwing up a circular work, close to Battery Wagner, and the exact character of which has not yet been determined. The enemy's fire throughout the day was slowly replied to by Fort Sumter and our batteries. The casualties at Battery Wagner yesterday were two men (a North Carolinian and a Georgian) killed, and five wounded.

Last evening the enemy opened fire upon Battery Haskell, at Legare's Point, James Island from a new battery which he has erected upon Black Island. The firing lasted until about 11 p. m. The construction of this Black Island battery, taken in connection with the fact that a Yankee fleet of twenty-seven transports still lies anchored in Stono river, would seem to portend important movements against James Island.

The same paper of Friday has the following:

The enemy's fire yesterday was directed chiefly at Battery Gregg, and the sand hills near Cumming's Point. About ten o'clock in the morning the Ironsides and two monitors were engaged; soon, however, one of the monitors withdrew and the bombardment was maintained, with short intermission, by the other two vessels until four o'clock in the afternoon. The fire was returned by Fort Sumter, Batteries Gregg and Simkins, and late in the evening, by Battery Wagner. The only casualties on our side, of which we have heard, were two killed and seven wounded at Battery Gregg. On the day previous there were also three mortally and two slightly wounded at the same Battery. The Ironsides, it is stated, was certainly struck twice, once by Fort Sumter and once by Battery Gregg. The fire from Battery Wagner is also thought to have struck the monitor.

The enemy did not open fire against James Island yesterday.

Battery Wagner is reported to be in better condition, defensively, than ever before.

General Beauregard yesterday inspected the works on James Island.

Duplin County May, 25, 1863.—EDITOR OF THE PROGRESS, RALEIGH, N. C.—No wish to add or stir party feelings, but as some friend has suggested sometime since the name of Wm. J. Houston, Esq., as a suitable person to be voted for for Congress in the district now represented by the Hon. Owen R. Kenan and as one man should have the same privileges as another, I suggest the name of THOMAS I. FAISON as a suitable person to represent the 3rd Congressional District at the ensuing election. No better or more loyal man than Thomas I Faison, no private man has done more for the Confederacy and the soldiers. Three of his sons have devoted their time and talents in the cause of freedom, and one of them has sealed it with his blood.
